Founder of Charisma - Rebuild Your Image
An appearance coach, a certified image consultant, and an aspiring soft skills trainer. She is a postgraduate in Public Relations from Pune. She has worked in the media industry for 3+ years. She rediscovered and polished her inner strengths with image consulting. She aims to help individuals, especially mothers to build and create a good, impactful first impression which can open the door to many opportunities. She does this by enhancing their appearance which is not only external but in congruence with their internal image as well. This helps each individual to be charismatic in their unique way.

Are you happy the way you are perceived?
